State Fire Training

Mission Statement
The mission of State Fire Training is to enable the California fire service to safely protect life and property through education, training, and certification.

California Fire Service Training and Education System
The California Fire Service Training and Education System (CFSTES) was established to provide a single statewide focus for fire service training in California. CFSTES is a composite of all the elements that contribute to the development, delivery, and administration of training for the California Fire Service. The authority for the central coordination of this effort is vested in the Training Division of the California State Fire Marshal's Office with oversight provided by the State Board of Fire Services.

The role of CFSTES is one of facilitating, coordinating, and assisting in the development and implementation of standards and certification for the California fire service. CFSTES manages the California Fire Academy System by providing standardized curricula and tests; accredited courses leading to certification; approved standardized training programs for local and regional delivery; administering the certification system; and publishing Career Development Guides, Instructors Guides, Student Manuals, Student Supplements, and other related support materials.

This system is as successful and effective as the people involved in it are. It is a fire service system developed by the fire service, for the fire service... and we believe it is the best one in the country.

Acknowledgments
State Fire Training coordinated the development of the material contained in this guide. Before its publication, the Statewide Training and Education Advisory Committee (STEAC) and the State Board of Fire Services (SBFS) recommended this guide for adoption by the State Fire Marshal (SFM). This guide is appropriate for fire service personnel and for personnel in related occupations that are pursuing State Fire Training certification.
Special acknowledgement and thanks are extended to the following members of State Fire Training for their diligent efforts and contributions that made the final publication of this document possible.

Introduction

A Certification Training Standards (CTS) Guide is developed for each rank in the fire service – fire fighter, driver/operator, fire instructor, fire officer, etc. The CTS Guide lists every responsibility a person is expected to complete and a student performance goal that includes a measurable minimum performance standard. In addition, a comprehensive list of reference resources is provided. The CTS Guide has several valuable uses:

1. It is the foundation for the certification programs recommended for adoption by the SBFS. Any certification program must be based upon job-related knowledge and measurable objectives.
2. It provides measurable minimum performance standards. The validity and reliability of fire service entrance and promotional examinations can be more easily defended when such measurable standards are utilized.
   These performance standards will need to be augmented by additional training in order to master the knowledge and skills needed for specialized operations.
3. It lists a variety of reference resources that may be studied in order to enhance job performance. A student can be confident that any eventual testing will be based upon the authoritative resources being studied. It is this fostering of individual confidence and initiative, which may become the most important accomplishment of the CTS Guide.

Format

The following is the standardized format for a Certification Training Standards Guide.

Title

The title should be written as concise as possible and provides the first indication that the standard is cognitive, psychomotor, or both. This indication is accomplished by using corresponding verbs. A task title might be, "Describe and Demonstrate the Use of Ropes." This shows that there are both cognitive and psychomotor requirements.

Authority

Each CTS is keyed, when possible, to a subsection of the appropriate National Fire Protection Association (NFPA) Professional Qualifications. Because of this correlation between the CTS Guide and the NFPA standard, it can be said that each fire service position in California’s certification system meets or exceeds the corresponding NFPA standard. In order to achieve this and satisfy the desired performance for California fire service personnel, a standard that the NFPA has designated for a particular level (Juvenile Firesetter Intervention Specialist I for example) may be included in California’s Public Education Instructor requirements. Moreover, in some instances, because of repetition in the NFPA standard, several subsections might be cited for a single CTS.

In other instances, California may have a requirement that has been overlooked or neglected by the NFPA. When there is no NFPA subsection in the standard to cite, the authority requiring the standard, or a performance within the standard, is listed. In these cases, the authority cited is the State Fire Marshal and the requirements are printed in italics.
Two levels of learning are used in a CTS Guide. These levels are defined as:

Level I: Knowledge

The ability to recall or recognition of previously learned material (facts, theories, etc.) in essentially the same form as taught. Students will be able to name, match, list, and identify a concept, principle, or object.

Level II: Comprehension

The ability to use information within a limited context, use abstractions in particular situations, and break information into its parts to clarify relationships. Students will be able to describe and demonstrate the use of an identified concept, principle, or object.

Performance Goal

The heart of the CTS Guide is contained in the performance goals. They attempt to specifically measure what a student knows or is capable of doing at the end of the instructional period by defining the amount of technical knowledge required or the skill of the psychomotor performance. The performance goal provides the instructor or testing agency with these guidelines.

1. What the student should be given to accomplish the CTS.
2. What the student should be able to accomplish.
3. How well the student should perform.
4. The authoritative reference resources being employed.

Given

Technically, the performance goal differs from a student behavioral objective (in a lesson plan) because the "Given" or "Condition" sections are not the same. In a behavioral objective, the "Condition" contains what the student is given at the time of testing. In a performance goal, the "Given" contains a block of information necessary for a student to study and accomplish the corresponding performance.

Performance

The "Performance" section of the performance goal lists, in detail, what a student must accomplish in order to satisfy the CTS. Three operative verbs are used in this section:

1. Identify indicates a Level I cognitive response (written or verbal) is required from the student.
2. Describe indicates a Level II cognitive response (written or verbal) is required from the student.
3. Demonstrate indicates a physical response is required so that the student's psychomotor skills or cognitive product can be judged, and is not necessarily tied to a level of learning.

To cut down on the sheer size of the CTS Guide, the many details included in the "Performance" section precluded the necessity of writing a series of task analyses on closely related subjects. For example, when talking about leadership styles, it became possible to write:
1. Describe the procedures for processing and scheduling a community service request, which shall include:
   - Securing necessary resources, equipment, and props
   - Securing facility appropriate for the venue
   - Scheduling personnel
   - Avoiding conflicts
   - Documenting on master activity calendar

Generally, but not always, each numbered item in the "Performance" is a job. Sometimes, however, many jobs are included in a single numbered item. In this case, each bullet represents a single job.

Standard

The "Standard" section of the performance goal identifies how the student will be evaluated. For cognitive requirements, the standard will be with a minimum 80% accuracy on a written exam. For psychomotor requirements, the standard will be by completing all operations on a performance test. In the cases where the CTS has both psychomotor and cognitive performance goals, the standard will list both the written exam and a performance test.

Learning Resources

A list of available authoritative reference resources supporting the performance goal.
The above information only identifies the educational requirements for each level of certification. In addition to the courses listed above, each level of certification requires a minimum experience in the subject area and/or certification prerequisites. For complete information, refer to the State Fire Training Policies and Procedures Manual.
