State Fire Training

Mission Statement

The mission of State Fire Training is to enable the California fire service to safely protect life and property through education, training, and certification.

California Fire Service Training and Education System

The California Fire Service Training and Education System (CFSTES) was established to provide a single statewide focus for fire service training in California. CFSTES is a composite of all the elements that contribute to the development, delivery, and administration of training for the California fire service. The authority for the central coordination of this effort is vested in the Training Division of the California State Fire Marshal's Office with oversight provided by the State Board of Fire Services.

The role of CFSTES is one of facilitating, coordinating, and assisting in the development and implementation of standards and certification for the California fire service. CFSTES manages the California Fire Academy System by providing standardized curriculum and tests; accredited courses leading to certification; approved standardized training programs for local and regional delivery; administering the certification system; and publishing Certification Training Standards, Instructors Guides, Student Manuals, Student Supplements, and other related support materials.

This system is as successful and effective as the people involved in it are. It is a fire service system developed by the fire service, for the fire service... and we believe it is the best one in the country.

Acknowledgments

State Fire Training coordinated the development of the material contained in this guide. Before its publication, the Statewide Training and Education Advisory Committee (STEAC) and the State Board of Fire Services (SBFS) recommended this guide for adoption by the State Fire Marshal (SFM). This guide is appropriate for fire service personnel and for personnel in related occupations that are pursuing State Fire Training certification.

TRAINING INSTRUCTOR 1B

Psychomotor Lesson Delivery

Topic 2-10: Legal and Ethical Considerations as They Relate to Psychomotor Training

The Training Instructor is exposed to both criminal and civil liability when providing training in the industrial setting (occupational training) and must adhere to the general safety orders of Cal/OSHA.

General Safety Orders of Cal/OSHA

Cal/OSHA is the state agency that regulates and enforces California workplace safety and health standards, and issues citations for any violations of those standards.

A citation is a written notice of a safety or health violation, usually based upon a Cal/OSHA inspection of a workplace or industrial accident. It typically must be issued within six months of the alleged violation, and it must describe the violation with particularity. The citation must also provide notice of any proposed penalty and provide a reasonable time for abatement.

Violation Categories

There are five categories of violations for which a citation may be issued, each with their own penalty guidelines.

1. Regulatory Violation

A regulatory violation occurs when an employer fails to comply with administrative safety and health requirements, such as record keeping, reporting, posting, or permit requirements. The penalty for a regulatory violation may be as high as $7,000. Failure to make a timely report of a death or serious illness or injury is subject to a minimum penalty of $5,000.

2. General Violation

A general violation occurs when an injury or illness results from a safety or health violation that is determined not to be likely to cause death or serious harm. The penalty for a general violation may be as high as $7,000.

3. Serious Violation

A serious violation occurs where there is a substantial probability that a safety or health violation could result in death or serious injury. A serious injury occurs whenever an employee suffers any loss of a body part, any degree of permanent disfigurement, or any injury requiring hospitalization (other than for observation) for more than 24 hours. The base penalty for a serious violation is $18,000 and may be as high as $25,000.

4. Willful Violation

A willful violation occurs where it is determined that the employer and/or employee committed an intentional and knowing safety or health violation, yet made no reasonable effort to eliminate the resulting hazard. The minimum penalty for a willful violation is $5,000 and may be as high as $70,000. A willful violation that causes death or prolonged physical impairment may also result in a criminal fine of up to $1.5 million and/or imprisonment for up to three years.

5. Repeat Violation

A repeat violation occurs where an employer repeats the same safety or health violation within three years of a previous violation. The penalty for a repeat violation may be as high as $70,000.

Topic 2-10: Legal and Ethical Considerations as They Relate to Psychomotor Training

One can easily see from the information that a Cal/OSHA citation - any Cal/OSHA citation - is a serious matter. In the eyes of the state, it is incumbent on all employers and/or employees to anticipate potential safety or health hazards in the workplace, and to make reasonable efforts to eliminate or mitigate those hazards. Cal/OSHA also insists on scrupulous adherence to its administrative requirements, particularly those requirements governing illness and injury prevention, cleaning, maintenance and adjustment of machinery and record keeping and reporting of occupational injuries.

At the end of the lesson, the lists will be reviewed to ensure that all legal and ethical concerns have been addressed.

Directions:

1. Each group will be assigned a writing board and pens.
2. Half of the groups will list legal concerns they can foresee as instructors teaching cognitive lessons.
3. The other half of the groups will list ethical concerns they can foresee as instructors teaching cognitive lessons.
4. You have 5 minutes to complete this activity.
5. Be prepared to discuss your lists with the class.
