Is a Corridor, as defined in the 2007 CBC Section 1002, to be considered as a Room under the provisions of the 2007 CBC, Section 442.2.2?

No. The 2007 CBC Section 1002 defines a corridor as an enclosed exit access component that defines and provides a path of egress travel to an exit. It is not considered a room.